

Iowa Jewish Historical Society Museum

Now More Than Ever

As we celebrate more than 200 years of Jewish life in Iowa, your support of the Iowa Jewish Historical Society can make a very real difference. Without your help and financial support, the stories of Jewish life in Iowa and the documents and artifacts that we preserve could be lost to future generations. Your generosity enables us to continue this important work.

Honoring Iowa's Jewish Veterans

This is an ongoing project of the Iowa Jewish Historical Society to identify and recognize the Jewish men and women of Iowa who have served in all branches of the U.S. military and Iowa's National Guard.

Preserving Iowa's Rich Jewish Heritage

The mission of the Iowa Jewish Historical Society is to collect, house, catalogue, and preserve the history of the Jewish people of Iowa and to deepen community understanding of Jewish history and culture through educational programming. This mission is made possible by people like you.

This cup was manufactured in Oskar Schindler's factory during WWII and brought to Des Moines by Irvin, Phyllis, and Celina Karp, who survived the Holocaust by being named on Schindler's List. The cup was donated by Celina Karp Biniaz.

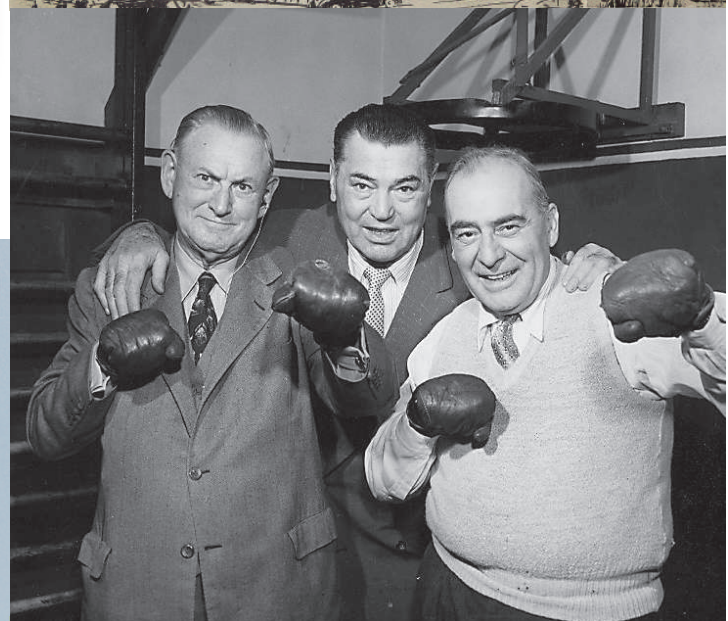

This trunk was brought to Des Moines by Holocaust survivors Jacob and Rose Szneier when they immigrated to the U.S.

Memories Are Precious: Share Your Family History

The Iowa Jewish Historical Society preserves your family and business memorabilia in archival storage for display in our museum and for research so that future generations will know about their roots in the Iowa Jewish community. Major areas of collecting include communal life, personal and family artifacts, business memorabilia and Holocaust memorabilia.

Please consider donating items to the IJHS.

WE NEED YOU!

Your annual membership in the Iowa Jewish Historical Society will help preserve the history and irreplaceable treasures of Jews in Iowa. As a member, you will also receive the CHAIowan, the Society's bi-annual newsletter that features articles highlighting Jewish history and Historical Society news. Your financial support assures an ever richer archive of our Jewish heritage.

Members are crucial to the Iowa Jewish Historical Society's success. Your tax-deductible contribution helps preserve and promote Iowa's rich Jewish history. Please join today.
